HOT TIPS FOR FINDING A GOOD SUMMER JOB

- (1) Decide what you want to do and where you want to do it. Some questions you may want to consider include:
 - Do you want a job related to your major or other special skills you possess?
 - Are there summer positions in your hometown?
 - Which is more important, the amount of money you earn or the type of experience you get?
- (2) Understand what skills you have to offer an employer.
 - How can your skills relate to summer employment?
 - How can you effectively communicate these skills on a résumé?
 - Schedule an appointment with a career counsellor to assist you with self-assessment and identifying options for summer jobs (call Career Services at 932-3294).
- (3) Begin to research summer positions.
 - Attend the workshop “Researching Summer Jobs and Internships” to learn how to identify summer jobs (Feb. 8).
 - Develop a network of contacts who can help you find a job. Ask classmates, friends, faculty, Rutgers alumni, relatives, and friends or your parents for potential job leads.
 - Check the summer jobs and internships listings located at Career Services.
 - Plan to attend the “Internships, Research & Summer Opportunities Job Fair” on March 3d at the Rutgers Student Center.
 - Use directories to develop lists of employers in your field of interest.
- (4) Launch an effective summer job campaign.
 - Develop a résumé. Attend the “Résumé Writing for Summer Jobs” workshop. Have your résumé critiqued by a career counsellor during drop-in hours.
 - Send cover letters and résumés to target employers. Generate your résumé at job fairs.
 - Practice your interviewing skills. Always follow up after interviews. Be persistent and you will successfully land a good summer job.

CLUB NETWORK FOR LIVINGSTON STUDENTS OF COLOR

What is Club Network? Club Network is a unique networking group where students of color can explore their career/life issues. It is a forum where you will have the opportunity to discuss concerns and issues relevant to your cultural experience. Club Network will provide you with pathways to self-assessment and decision-making tools to guide you through college and into the world of work. Club Network will provide you a “family-type” support environment which can serve as a spurce of encouragement, growth and development.

A new group is being launched in the Spring of 1989. If interested in joining, please call 932-3294 by February 15, 1989 for further details.
